The nuclear rocket was launched from a Northrop F89 Scorpion jet fighter.

House Restores $200,000,000 To Foreign Aid

BULLETIN

Washington (AP)—The House voted 155-74 today to slash a third off the economic aid fund President Eisenhower asked to support defense programs of America's allies.

The standing vote, subject to a later roll call, amounted to a reversal in a see-saw battle as the House began a day of showdown voting on Eisenhower's multibillion-dollar aid bill.

Washington (AP)—The House handed President Eisenhower a preliminary victory today by voting 172-154 to restore 300 million dollars to his foreign aid program. But new moves for cuts shaped up.

The teller vote on the 300-million-dollar item started a showdown session as House leaders sought to pass the multibillion-dollar aid authorization bill by nightfall.

Shapiro Survey of State Institutions To End Next Week

Harrisburg (AP)—Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro said today he will make no economy dismissals until after next week when he expects to complete a personal survey of the 32 welfare institutions.

"It should be obvious that any effort to approach this problem on an intelligent basis requires the completion of the survey before any action can be taken," he declared in a statement.

Shapiro reported he has completed inspections and conferences at 12 of the 17 mental institutions and four schools for mentally retarded.

He said that the superintendent of each institution has been advised that no dismissals or other action can be taken until the survey is completed, the trustees and superintendent have made recommendations to the department and the department has determined an over-all policy.

Shapiro said he was issuing the statement because there has been too much "interpretation and misinterpretation" on the subject.

Girl Crowned Miss U. S. Is Mother of Two

Long Beach, Calif. (AP)—The new Miss United States in the Miss Universe contest stands to lose her title and the right to compete further because she is married, contest officials said today.

Leona Gage finally stopped denying her marriage this morning and said she is the wife of an airman and mother of two.

Leona came here as Miss Maryland, giving a hometown of Glen Burnie, a Baltimore suburb.

Actually, she was married at 14 to Gene Norris Ennis, 28, Air Force Staff Sergeant stationed at Friendship International Airport. The children are David Nathan, 2, and Gene Jr., 3.

Leona told contest officials she was single and 21. Others sources give her age as 18 and her marriage date as Feb. 3, 1953.

Contest officials say she will be stripped of her title and Miss Utah, Charlotte Sheffield, 20, Salt Lake City blonde, will take over as Miss United States. Miss Utah finals last Wednesday night.

Miss Utah, however, will not compete in tonight's Miss Universe finale. Instead, the girl who was 16th in the semi-final judging last night will fill the spot. The name of this girl has not been determined.

The rumors started flying last night, and Miss Maryland tearfully denied them. This morning she denied them again. At last, however, she changed her story and admitted the marriage.

Mrs. Clarence Long of Crisfield, Md., Leona's mother-in-law told newsmen that the girl came to her three weeks ago with the children and said she was going to try for the contest.

After winning her title, Leona told a story of rags to riches path to the contest. She said she and a cousin with whom she lived near Baltimore pooled $45 in savings to buy a dress to enter the Maryland contest. After winning that, she said the two of them split her round trip ticket and came here together, with practically no money.

She won the title in a dress borrowed from a Long Beach merchant and said afterward she had but $2 in cash.

A girl who gave her name to newsmen Wednesday night as Barbara Gage said she was Leona's cousin and told part of the rags to riches saga. She could not be located today and officials expressed doubt she is related to Leona.

Uncle Sam Has A Surplus of $1,645,000,000

Washington (AP)—A surplus of $1,645,000,000 was recorded by the federal government for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

The Treasury and the Budget Bureau reported the amount today.

The balance for fiscal 1957 was the second successive black-ink showing. A third balanced budget recommended by President Eisenhower now is pending before Congress.

The statement issued by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Director Percival Brundage of the Budget Bureau showed federal receipts of $70,989,000,000 and expenditures of $69,344,000,000 for the 12 months ending June 30.

Expenditures were 444 million dollars higher than were estimated in January when the fiscal year was half over, while receipts were 361 million dollars higher than the January estimate.

The public debt at the end of the bookkeeping year was $270,634,809,846, a reduction of $2,190,392,278 from the level a year earlier.

The statement said the increase in outlays was "mainly due to larger expenditures for the Department of Defense which were not fully offset by lower expenditures in other departments."

In fiscal 1955 the government had a deficit of $4,200,000,000. Buoyed by rapidly rising tax collections, receipts exceeded spending in the following year, fiscal 1956, by $1,600,000,000, or approximately the same size surplus as was reported for the year which ended June 30.

The budget which Eisenhower sent to Congress in January, covering fiscal 1958, calls for spending totaling $71,800,000,000 and receipts of $73,600,000,000, for an anticipated surplus of $1,800,000,000.

EVIDENCE IS CONCLUDED IN CLINTON TRIAL

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—The defense today rested its case in the Clinton segregation trial without calling further witnesses.

Chief Defense Counsel Robert L. Dobbs, Memphis, told U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor after two witnesses testified briefly this morning that "in order to avoid consuming any more time, the defense for the 10 defendants rest their case."

Northern segregationist John Kasper's lawyer J. Benjamin Simmons, said he concurred. He represents only Kasper.

U. S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. rose and said, "that's all for the government, too."

The only defense witnesses today were Ted White, a Clinton fireman, and Guy M. Jones, foreman in a knitting mill at Clinton.

White's testimony was that the restraining order, prohibiting interference with integration of Clinton High School, was not fully read by U. S. Marshal Frank Quarles.

Jones testified that everything was quiet around the high school prior to Dec. 4. That was the day when the Rev. Paul Turner escorted six Negro students to school and was beaten immediately afterward.

Crawford, however, brought out the fact that Jones began work every day at 7 a. m. Jones said he was on vacation Dec. 4, a Tuesday.

"But you weren't around the school during the week before were you?" Crawford asked. The witness agreed.

"So you don't actually know, yourself, what the situation was around the high school?"

Government witnesses have described mounting tension in the week before Dec. 4. They said four defendants regularly stationed themselves near the school.

Jones said, however, that he "made it a point" to know what was going on at the school.

DISPUTE SETTLED

Crawford Physician Captures Alleged Hit and Run Driver

Meadville, (AP)—A Crawford county physician chased and captured an alleged hit-run driver last night after the man's car had been involved in a collision with a fire truck.

State police told the story this way:

Dr. H. M. Merson of Linesville was following a Springboro Volunteer Fire, Dept. truck along a rural road near Pymatuning Dam. The truck, returning from a routine practice session, collided with a car operated by Everett Myers of Andover, Ohio.

Ascertaining that no one was hurt in the collision, Dr. Merson drove after the motorist's car and forced the machine to the side of the road. He held the driver until other motorists gave aid. State police arrested Myers on a charge of fleeing the scene of an accident and placed him in the Crawford County jail here pending a hearing.

Times Square Has Visit From Bevy Of Erie Lassies

Today was a day like all days, only girls were there!

The editorial rooms were quiet except for the clatter of typewriter keys and the usual hum of voices, when just four, innocent females were seen standing in front of Times-Mirror and one of the inquisitive members of the staff decided to ask where they were headed since they had sacks of group and were wearing sport-like clothing—Bermudas, etc. Before the conversation had ceased, two more came to the group and it was learned that they were from Erie and headed for a camp. Nine of them soon congregated and the investigator invited them up to the office for an "interview."

Among nine, "quite" frequent chattering voices, the following information was soon elicited:

The lassies, Peggy Roward, Mary Ann Oblinski, Elaine Char-

Prosecution Opens Rebuttal in Pike Conspiracy Trial

By BOB HOLTON

Harrisburg (AP)—The prosecution opened its rebuttal today in the turnpike conspiracy trial with testimony of a Scranton engineer on the effect of mine voids along adjoining mine workings.

John Francoini, engineer of the Heidelberg Coal Co., testified that voids of silts forced into mine voids along the toll road's northeastern extension seeped into the Heidelberg workings.

He referred to a multi-million dollar contract between the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and the Manu-Mine Research and Development Co. for filling mine voids beneath the toll road in Lackawanna and Luzerne County.

Six character witnesses took the stand today, testifying on behalf of some of the defendants.

Several character witnesses were expected to take the stand today on behalf of one defendant. The defense closed its case with the agreement that the character witnesses could be heard.

Plans Announced To Build a Bath House at Tionesta

Tionesta — Plans are underway here for a public bath house along a stretch of beach bordering on the Tionesta Dam. Work is expected to begin on the proposed building within several days, Edward Patrick, editor of the Forest Press, said today.

The structure, which will house men's and women's dressing rooms and a refreshment stand, will be 20 by 26 feet in size and will be made of cinder blocks.

The refreshment stand will be in the center of the building, with a dressing room at each end.

The building is located on the beach, which is sponsored by the Lions Club here, and the club is also sponsoring the bath house, with the assistance of the public.

Block certificates, which will sell for $1 each, will be sold to persons interested in helping to subsidize the fund. The certificate will show that the holder has bought a cinder block. They will, however, be non-transferable and non-negotiable.

The one-story building will not house toilet facilities this year, but they are planned to be added next summer.

WELCOME LEGIONNAIRES

It has been several moons since the community has hosted a good-sized convention and it is with great pleasure that Warren and Forest County citizens tomorrow will greet the influx of legionnaires to the annual 28th District Convention.

The annual get-togethers in District 28 had been interrupted for several years and it is a tribute to the local unit that Chief Cornplanter Post No. 135 was chosen for this second annual convention.

Hundreds of legionnaires (and perhaps thousands) are expected to flow into Warren for the full program which begins for convention delegates at 10 a. m. when registration starts at the home on Pennsylvania Avenue, West.

Public interest will begin at 1 p. m. when the chicken barbecue, open to everyone, begins on the lawn behind the legion. This barbecue will continue until 10 p. m. with the exception of 4 to 8:30 p. m. when the eating halts for another parade in the fine July tradition established in Warren over the years.

Public will also be interested in the legion program at War Memorial Field where the parade will disband. A brief address will be delivered by Joseph Gavenonis, Commander of American Legion in Pennsylvania.

SHELTERED WORKSHOP

A group of parents from the Warren County Association for Retarded Children and Mrs. Kenneth G. Corey, teacher of Special Education at South Street School visited the Erie County Chapter's Sheltered Workshop this week. Sheltered Workshops are established for the retarded child, who, because of his age, is no longer able to attend the Special Education classes in the Public Schools. They are trained to perform simple tasks that industry considers "nuisance jobs," such as packaging, sorting, making shipping tags, assembling reading material into booklet form, etc. Those who are able after this training are ready for job placement. They also make many other useful items.

It is truly an inspiration to see these young adults busily working with such cheerful, congenial attitudes, happy in the knowledge that they are doing something useful in the community and not sitting idly at home as they would be if it weren't for such workshops.

Since three out of every one hundred are born retarded the Warren Chapter is interested in setting up a workshop of this kind in the near future to help alleviate a growing problem in our own community.

Warren county's Scout delegation that attended the Jamboree at Valley Forge is due to arrive back this evening after what has been described as one of the most eventful and historic gatherings of boys ever held in the nation. According to all reports the area Troop members distinguished themselves in a manner that brought credit to their unit and this community as well.

Big time in store for local teen-agers when Playgrounds officials will stage the first "record" dance at the Beaty tennis courts. It is a foregone conclusion that a "record" attendance will be on hand for the party. Japanese Beetle Week activities promises some exciting times for the youngsters starting Monday and ending with a fishing excursion to Erie Monday, July 29th.

The first circus of the season and one of the few tented attractions on the road is holding forth at the Starbrick baseball field this afternoon and evening, sponsored by Fire Departments of that village and North Warren. Information early this afternoon was to the affect that the matinee was well attended. Tonight's performance is scheduled to start at eight o'clock.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.—Romans 11:32.

Among the attributes of God, although they are all equal, mercy shines with more brilliancy than justice.—Cervantes.

"If It Shouts, Salute It --- If It Rustles, Stamp It"

Here and There

A greeting written in pencil on a postcard mailed at the Warren Post Office July 15, at 4:30 p. m., carries a fine compliment for Jim Reier and members of his Park Department. Self-explanatory the message says: "While driving along Route 6 we noticed your beautiful park and stopped for our picnic lunch. We appreciated the cleanliness and nice picnic tables and benches. Everybody was so very friendly we found ourselves reluctant to go on. Thank you so much. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Slesah and Family, 432 Lein Road, Buffalo 24, N. Y."

Another stranger in our midst, who found himself stranded in Warren Wednesday evening, left a suggestion of a different type before taking the bus for the Bradford airport Thursday afternoon, when he made a call to the Times-Mirror from the pay station at the bus terminal. Identifying himself as James W. Weston, 1625 Old Welsh Road, Huntingdon Valley, Philadelphia, the gentleman told such as the Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanians, etc., get behind a move to enlarge the dormitory quarters at the Y. In leaving he said he wanted to thank the officials at the office of the City Lines for helping him to get situated. His newly-made acquaintance, it was learned later was a Keith Fuery, of Mount Vernon, Ohio, who also registered at the Y for the night.

The fact that the American Legion Home will be the center of activities for the convention of the 28th district scheduled tomorrow recalls a story this writer did some thirty years ago after a tour of the spacious grounds surrounding the residence with the owner and builder of the mansion, the late A. J. Hazeltine. The story was printed in one of the three Warren daily papers at the time and concerned mostly the different trees that graced the yard when acquired by the Legion. We recall that Mr. Hazeltine informed us there were but three trees on the property when he purchased it, a large apple, maple outside the walk on the street and a horse chestnut in the driveway. Quoting from the article, it said among other things: "We may have missed a few in the dusk of a mid-summer evening, but here are some trees in the yard to which Mr. Hazeltine called special attention: Colorado Blue Spruce, Austrian Pine, Scotch Pine, American arbutus, Balsam, seven or eight varieties of Japanese Maples, native Pine, Himalayan Pine, Norway Spruce, Concolor Fir, Flowering Apple, Mugho or Mountain Pine, Blue Cedar, silver Maple, Buckeye or Horsechestnut, three varieties of Magnolias, Blood Red Maple, Hemlock, Irish Juniper, Kentucky coffee tree, Salsbury or Chinese Ginkgo, Swedish Oak, White Birch, Japanese Lilac, George Peabody's Golden Arborvitae, River's Oak, Lombardy Poplar, Flowering Prune Pissardi, Sweidler's Maple, Weir's Cutleaf Maple, Japanese Cherry and Ironwood." We recall that Mr. Hazeltine reminded us that a study of the names of the trees showed that many countries of the world were represented in the collection, while some of them were native to this section. Incidentally it was the first time a complete list of trees on the historic property was ever compiled and printed.

U.S.-Canadian Committee Seeks to Reduce 'Tensions'

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Reduction of "tensions" between Canada and the United States is being given a different twist by a new experiment just launched here.

It calls for trying to solve existing differences between the two countries by a Canadian-American Committee of 40 prominent business, labor and farm leaders from each of the two countries. They will act as private citizens instead of through the usual government diplomatic channels.

If this effort is successful, it may set a pattern for reducing friction between countries in other parts of the free world—Latin America, Europe, the Middle East and even the Far East.

It has taken National Planning Association more than two years to get this new venture started. NPA is a privately financed, non-profit and non-political research organization interested in planning for future economic development in the U.S. and overseas. Chairman and moving spirit of NPA is Danish-born H. Christian Sonne, president of South Ridge Corp., New York.

CO-CHAIRMAN of the new Canadian-American Committee will be President Robert M. Fowler of Canadian Pulp and Paper Association and R. Douglas Stuart of Chicago, board chairman of Quaker Oats and former U.S. ambassador to Canada.

The new committee will hold its first meeting in or near Montreal some time this fall. It will be a general discussion of the principal causes of strained relations between the two countries. These include:

The dumping of American farm surpluses in foreign markets which undercuts Canada's grain export sales.

Canadian-American trade balances, now running a billion dollars a year in favor of the U.S. and against Canada.

Arrangements for increased Canadian participation in equity financing for U.S. investments in Canada.

Adjustment of tolls on the St. Lawrence seaway to cover unexpectedly higher costs of construction and operation.

Joint development of the Columbia River Basin.

Export of Canadian hydroelectric power, petroleum, and natural gas to insure U.S. deliveries and firm markets.

Communications and cultural relations, to overcome Canadian objections to U.S. saturation in radio and magazines.

THE HOPE IS, says Sonne, that the new committee can find solutions for some of these problems without government participation.

If the committee comes up with solutions that will require government action, then recommendations will be made direct to the two governments.

"Most international problems are economic problems before they become political issues," comments ex-Ambassador Stuart. He feels that businessmen should be able to solve them without government interference.

Canada is America's best customer in the world, and vice versa. New committee Co-chairman Fowler refuses to comment on the theory of Canada's new Premier John George Diefenbaker, that 15 per cent of Canada's U.S. trade should be shifted to Great Britain.

BUT MR. FOWLER points out that this is a reflection of the feeling of many Canadians, that the U.S. takes Canada too much for granted. Canadian national pride resents this. Canadians want to be treated as equal partners, not as satellites.

This is also the feeling in many other countries where American government aid or U.S. private industry has invested heavily.

Interesting History of Post Quarters in Pennsylvania Ave., West, Found in File of 1929

The following story describing the purchase of the American Legion Home in Pennsylvania avenue, west in 1929, appeared in the Warren Times-Mirror following the meeting when it was decided to acquire the property from the A. J. Hazeltine estate.

"Realization of dreams and plans, nine years old, of the American Legion came to a successful end last night when at a meeting of Chief Complanter Post No. 135, it was unanimously voted to purchase the A. J. Hazeltine property in Pennsylvania avenue.

"The purchase of this splendid property by the American Legion will give it a home ideally suited for its many activities. It is a home that for the past two decades has been close to the family life of Warren, a home built by one of Warren's most distinguished citizens, a man, who himself intensely patriotic, was always interested in the success and progress of the American Legion.

"The purchase price was disclosed at $50,000. At the same time it was announced that the four heirs of Mr. Hazeltine, Harold D., Mrs. William B. Lynde, Hugh V., and Mrs. Francis M. Caughey, had made a $10,000 contribution in memory of their parents, to the American Legion. It was this generous gift which made the purchase of this property feasible.

"The Hazeltine property is located on Pennsylvania avenue between Laurel and Union streets. There is a frontage of 126 feet on the avenue and the property acquired by the Legion has a depth of some 225 feet. The remaining portion of the property is retained by the Hazeltine Estate. It includes a garage, over which there is an apartment, a flower garden and a conservatory. The garage fronts on Fourth avenue.

"The exterior of the house is of buff brick with Vermont marble trimmings. It has a Spanish tile roof of unusual beauty and durability. The eastern and southern exposure of the home is flanked with an open tiled terrace, running the length of the house.

"The house is of English Elizabethan architecture and was designed by Edward Phillips of Warren. By many it is considered Mr. Phillips' finest accomplishment in the field of domestic architecture. In spite of its unusual size it is a very liveable home, and its arrangement lends itself admirably for club purposes. The living room extends the full width of the house, in size is 20 by 34 feet, with an unusually large wood fireplace at the west end of the room.

"Construction of the Hazeltine home required nearly two years. It was completed in May, 1907. Construction, under the direction of architect and owner, was in charge of the late Jacob Sampson, of this city. The wood-work was installed by E. M. Hager and Sons of Buffalo. The plumbing was planned and installed by Schellhammer and Son.

"The wood-work throughout the house is particularly beautiful and it is doubtful if woods of equal character and beauty could be procured today.

"The library is finished in solid mahogany, with crotch mahogany sliding doors. The living-room is finished in English oak, a similar finish prevailing in the dining-room. The billiard-room, located conveniently near the porte cochere, is of a beautifully toned chestnut finish. The sleeping rooms are of white enamel, with an egg-shell finish. The ball-room on the third floor is simple in character, but is of commodious size for large gatherings.

"Members of the American Legion realize that with the acquisition of this property they have acquired a home in keeping with the character of the town and the ideals of the American Legion. They realize that it will mean lots of work to maintain it at its high level but feel that they have a property worthy of the town and one in which all feel a pride. They feel that the property as a Legion Home will create even a greater interest among members of the American Legion and unite them as never before.

"It is believed that the citizens of Warren will appreciate the spirit which prompted the American Legion to purchase the property. The American Legion in Warren has lived and grown during the past nine years in quarters far from attractive and in some cases hard to reach. During all these years they have had the idea of a home in mind and wanted that home to reflect the best things of Warren and at the same time give them a property which would permit their membership to carry on its activities with ease.

"Following the Home Campaign last May a Home Committee of some 26 men was appointed to consider the home angle from every detail. As negotiations progressed and as property after property was viewed and considered, two smaller committees were appointed. One of them was to consider all plans for the home and to go into the proposition carefully before presenting any proposition to the larger committee, and in turn to the Legion. This committee is composed of Ben Kinnear, who has been the leading spirit in the entire movement for the past two years, Manley Putnam and Harold C. Putnam, the present Post Commander, and Robert W. Mackay.

"Following the presentation of the plan at last night's meeting, the membership voted to adopt the report of the committee which favored the purchase of the Hazeltine property. It was made only after a number of months of intensive work and study and after a consideration of the matter from all sides."

Men Need More Love
And Less 'Management'

A MAN reader has some advice to offer women readers. Says he: "You women wouldn't have to work so hard to try to manage your husbands and to get them to do what you want them to do if you would quit talking so much and just occasionally let your husband know you love him."

"You would be surprised at how much it means to a husband to have his wife come up and put her arms around him at some unexpected moment, or really kiss him good-bye in the morning or hello in the evening, instead of giving him a formal little peck, or look in his eyes when he is talking to her instead of out the window or at a spot on the carpet."

"Give a man plenty of love and attention—not because of what you want to get out of him but because you think he is a pretty nice guy and living with him is fun—and you women won't have to worry your pretty heads about trying to manage us men."

QUIT MANAGING

WELL, there it is, women. If you will just quit trying to outtalk, outsmart, and manage your husbands and concentrate on loving them "as is," maybe you can relax and quit worrying because your husband won't do this or insist on doing that.

If he knows without any doubt that he is loved, appreciated and admired, he may not require as much "managing" to be a satisfactory husband.

Why not give it a try? You haven't anything to lose. You might gain a happier husband, a happier marriage and turn out to be a happier woman.

Washing Away the HEAT WAVES

If the weather man could lower
Temperature at quick command,
His office would be crowded
With requests on every hand.

But concerning summer climate
There is nothing he can do;
So we offer this suggestion
To refresh your home and you.

Turn cool water on your dwelling,
On its roof and down all sides;
Feel it wash away the heat waves—
Balmy weather soon presides.

Also drench the yard and pavement
With a stream of hose-made rain.
In return, all of your family
Have a pleasant home again.

Pauline Eash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams, Staibrick, became the bride of Clarence Berkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Berkey, Hamburg, Pa., in a double ring ceremony at 3:30 p. m. July 6 at the home of Rev. H. H. Williams, grandfather of the bride, who officiated, assisted by Dr. O. E. Williams.

The bride chose a bouffant ballerina gown of pink nylon chiffon, an Ann Fogarty original, the off-the-shoulder bodice enhanced with matching stole. With it she wore white summer jewelry and a white organza picture hat with rhinestone trim. A rosebud corsage, showered with tiny rosebuds knotted in long satin streamers and carried atop a white Bible, completed her costume.

Spanking's Only Virtue—
It Makes Our Demands Clear

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

ON Saturday morning John's father went out to prune the back yard hedge. John followed. He became fascinated by the sigh and sound of the pruner twigs snapping between the sharp blade of his father's new clippers.

Though his father kept telling him to keep away, their attraction was too strong. Finally, when his father was called to the phone he reached for the clippers—and with an exciting sense of perilous adventure, tried them out.

Returning, his father was shocked by this spectacle of 7-year-old disobedience. He bore the squirming, furious youngster into the house and spanked him.

AT once tension went out of John. His angry crying became submissive. Sobbing he promised never to touch the clippers again. And indeed for the rest of the day behaved like a cherub of heaven.

Said his father snugly to his mother, "Nothing can clear the air like a good old-fashioned spanking!"

Clear the air of what? His own shilly-shallying indecisiveness. Spanking had not changed John. What had subdued him was not getting beaten but getting certainty that his father meant what he said.

After spanking, children often relax. They relax not because we have hit their bodies, but because we have finally made our demands on them clear.

SO we're not bright to get romantic over spanking's efficiency. Its only efficiency is that it contains our decision to mean what we've said.

Frequent spanking means we've got the habit of not meaning what we've said. It encourages us to nag absent-mindedly. Had John's father attended to what he was saying, he'd have given meaning to it with John's first defiance. He'd have quit clipping. With his hands on his child's shoulders, looking straight into his eye, he'd have said, "Because these clippers are very sharp, you must not touch them. Now say it after me three times—I am not to touch Dad's clippers."

He would not have needed to spank.

Slim Lines Replace Full Skirts

Back to the campus in clothes with slim lines, in the overblouse, in plaids both small and large. This girl (left) packs a two-piece rhea plaid cotton knit for the first days of college. Overblouse is worn with sheath skirt; both wash easily and dry quickly. Plaid gets bold in this skirt (center) by Century.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The neat look, based on separates, is the look that college girls prefer for 1957. It's as different as can be from the old blue jean and shirt get-up that used to be acceptable.

The neat look is also a slim look, expressed this year by the sheath, by slim skirts and separates made for each other. And these slim skirts carry over from daytime into evening or date wear. The very bouffant petticoat is going the way of blue jeans.

The idea in choosing sweaters and skirts is to achieve neatness and harmony. (The dyed-to-match sets are relegated to dressy wear.) For this reason, college girls also favor the separates that are made for each other. For the early days of autumn, many will pick the slim cotton knits in muted plaids, pebble knits and solid colors. Students like them because they're budget-priced, keep their shape and wash easily.

Gray flannel is still the top favorite with college girls. Then comes beige. Some students like the idea of red but as an accent color only.

Tweed rates next to flannel as the fabric most preferred by college girls. They like the muted tweeds in both color and pattern. And they like to repeat one color of the tweed in a sweater to be worn with it.

In the bridal party were Mrs. R. J. Hartman, Sunbury, matron of honor for her sister; the bridegroom's sister, Lois Korona, and Ann Gill, Buffalo, bridesmaids; David Burnham, Corsica, as best man; the bride's brother, John R. Smith of Dayton, O., and Leslie Birth, Sugar Grove, ushers.

The Finger Lakes region of New York state was the honeymoon destination.

Bernard Wingert, assistant county farm agent, gave an illustrated lecture on the county agricultural and home economics extension service. It was most gratifying to view the wide field of action of this agency, not only in the county but for town folks as well.

Members were reminded their regular meeting will be at 8:00 p. m. August 5; and were asked to reserve the date of August 19 for the Grange picnic.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS

The Past Noble Grands Club of Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge will have a tureen supper and meeting at six o'clock this evening at the home of Mrs. Mildred Van Orsdale, 101 Connecticut avenue. Each one is asked to bring a tureen and table service, the committee to provide dessert and coffee.

New Home Permanent Ends With Shampoo

This girl has achieved soft and shining hair with a home permanent that lets her use shampoo as the final step of the waving process rather than waiting a week.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

MOST women consider a permanent to be indispensable. Barring the lucky few with naturally curly or partly curly hair, women would be ugly ducklings without the glamor a permanent lends.

But there's more to it than that. It gets a girl out of the time-consuming business of pin-curling hair every night. It keeps her looking neat through rain, heat, humidity and fog.

There was, until now, a period of time when every woman de-tested her permanent. That was the week after she got it. She couldn't shampoo her wave for fear of relaxing it too much. So she went about yearning for the week to go by. Meanwhile, she avoided dates or social engagements of any kind.

Someone was bound to come up with a solution and someone has. A well-known maker of home permanents has brought out a home wave that lets you shampoo your hair as the final step of the permanent. And there's no need to shampoo before you wave, the maker claims.

In town for a few days this week to visit old friends and making their headquarters with Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Conway at 513 Fourth avenue, are Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Criswell, of Chagrin Falls, O., former residents here.

It will interest many, particularly those of the art field, to know that Louis Bosa, distinguished artist, lecturer and writer, and subject of a recent feature article in Life Magazine, will conduct an exhibition and visiting artist demonstration at Chattanooga August 2. The demonstration will take place in the Art Association's main gallery at 4:30 p. m. Earlier, 11:00 a. m. Mr. Bosa will lead an informal discussion in the Art Center.

A/c Richard Walchli has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Walchli while en route from Lackland Air Force Base in Texas to a new assignment at Graham Air Base at Marianna, Fla.

Hy Yaple, Erie Morning News women's editor, detailing a story from the Marines' Camp Lejeune, N. C., mentions chatting with Captain Vernon E. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jones of Youngsville, who is assistant operations and training officer for all supply schools at the depot. Another area marine with whom she visited briefly was Pvt. Michael J. Misulich, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Misulich of 41 Deerluck street, Sheffield, in the Corps since March 22.

Word comes from Dr. Jean Stephenson, national chairman of the DAR genealogical records committee in Washington, D. C., that one of the five new members of the advisory committee is William Galbraith Smith, of Warren and Washington, a past president of the National Genealogical Society, and by profession, a genealogist of considerable reputation.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Betts, 300 Buchanan street, arrived home early Thursday morning from New York and a jaunt of nearly a month in Europe. Sailing on the Queen Elizabeth June 24, they first spent five days in Paris, then on to London and came home on the Statendam. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeFree, with whom they traveled part of the way, will return home at a later date.

It is learned from Joe Casamento of Venturatown that his brother, Nate, 347 Linwood avenue, Dayton, O., but presently visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Casamento of Jamestown, will leave for Europe and Africa August 1st, traveling by airline and also attending the Youth for Christ World Congress in Copenhagen as representative of United World Missions, a national organization. After visiting Berlin, Paris and Spain, he will travel to French West Africa, embarking October 12 on the French liner Liberte and arriving back in the States about October 19. WSWS members held their regular meeting in Fellowship Hall, with a stock shower for the president, Mrs. Joann Carr. Tables were prettily decorated by Mrs. Ella Gales and Mrs. Betty Danicson, with miniature stocks perched jauntily beside tiny baskets filled with pink and white mints, and a pink parasol for a centerpiece. Mrs. Ethel Gahner and Peggy Morrison, hostesses served lunch and Mrs. Carr received many lovely gifts.

Monday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Van Guilder were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Tumm and son, Marland, James-town, N. Y.; John Hess, Brooklyn, N. Y. Also a guest at the Van Guilder home is Mrs. Marie Dempsey.

Eight and Forty Salon Names State Delegates

A well attended tureen dinner and business meeting was held by members of Warren County Salon No. 405, Eight and Forty, at Pinecrest Lodge near Sheffield with Mrs. Evelyn Gailor, and members of the Sheffield group as hostesses.

At a brief business session conducted by Chapeau Mrs. Leona Albaugh, final plans were made for the following delegates to attend the 1957 Departmental March to be held in Harrisburg the week of August 5-7: Mrs. Albaugh, chapeau; Phyllis Epstein, le pouvoir; Mrs. Gailor, alternate.

A report made by the child-welfare and tuberculosis committee chairman revealed a total of about 100 hours in typing and unit work have been donated to aid the Warren TB Society in its recent chest X-ray survey in Warren County.

A social period followed, and, as an added attraction, four new members were "wrecked" into the Salon. The white mule award was won by Mrs. Clara Driscoll.

The August meeting will be held in Warren on the 21st, time and place to be announced later.

Rural Museum Is Being Opened This Weekend at Lauger Farm

Oscar Lauger, "Pennsylvania Potato King," inaugurates a new enterprise at his Pittsfield Township farm this Sunday with the opening of his rural museum, filled with a curious collection of early Americana gathered far and wide for more than a score of years.

Approaching completion on Oscar and Elsie's rolling farmland just north of Wrightsville on Route 958, is a picturesque series of ponds, staggered on the hillside like Chinese rice paddies, connected with arching Oriental-type bridges and serving as tranquil woodland settings for picnicking areas and fantasies inspired by the Lauger imagination.

Oscar Lauger, now 61, has eyes for other things besides his potatoes, as evidenced by the famed display of Christmas lights which drew an estimated 15,000 to his farm for successive years until ill health proscribed the effort this past holiday.

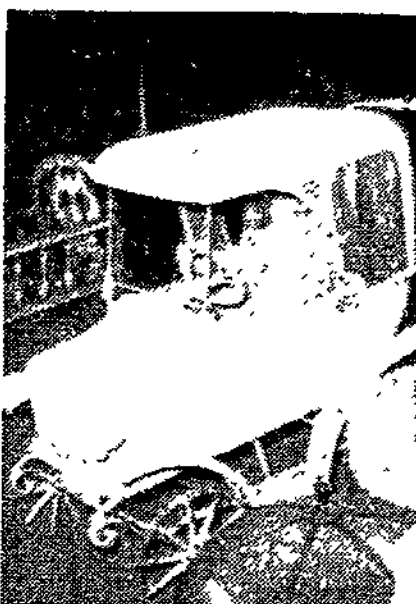

But the native of Murray Hill near Youngsville has always been attracted by the odd, the old and the irregular. This last has perhaps been Oscar's most consuming passion and as his potato trucks would swing back toward home empty, the keen eyes of a shrewd farmer would fill with delight at strange rocks and formations. The more potatoes that went out from the Lauger farm (an estimated 100,000 bushels a year) the more room there was to bring back rocks—or any other curios which struck an insatiable fancy.

So on Sunday, as a backdrop to the opening of Lauger's museum of post-bellum carriages, bicycles, weapons, tools, handcuffs and friction vacuum machine, visitors will find a placement of strange stones and rocks into what Oscar calls his "amphitheatre". It could just as well be a Druid peninsula for its weird, if symmetric, arrangement. Throughout the rock placements, on stone stairs and in other strategic spots, are rock-bound carriage lamps which lend an otherworldly glow to the 20 ponds stretched over a 35-acre locale which rests on a rolling hillside in a beautiful valley. And a "Rock City" juts into one pond.

Two ranch-type buildings, pine-paneled and picture-windowed, give no hint of dusky interiors with lines of lanterns and other exotic lights barely illuminating rows of display counters with a fantastic conglomeration of miniature oil lamps, old weapons, fin de siècle bric a brac, buggies (including the auto model which won first prize at St. Louis Fair in 1904), spinning wheels of all types, early choppers, grinders, apple peelers, Singer sewing machines and some mechanisms even the Laugers can't identify.

Indian artifacts, coral from both oceans, unusual clocks, a leopard skin and a smuggled Egyptian mummy mask mark the older building already visited by hundreds during the past few years.

The Laugers, who own 1,400 acres, plant about 650 a year in potatoes, and have converted about 35 acres of their 170-acre farm into a budding recreation area, are uncertain just how the public will react to Oscar's curio collection which took him 20 years to amass. But one thing is certain—No one will ever see a picknicking area or museum anything like it anywhere else.

Above, left, is the "auto buggy" which won first prize at St. Louis Worlds Fair in 1904. Surrounding it in the Lauger museum are lamps, cribs and other strangers to a modern world which have been collected by Oscar Lauger, a man whose eye for the curious rivals that of his good Wrightsville friend, A. C. Westran (who recently suffered a stroke).

Left, a row of chandeliers and other lights, from such exotic lands as Persia, Arabia and elsewhere in the Middle East illuminate other equally rare bits of early American life, which seem foreign because much of it is now seldom seen.

Right — This is Oscar "Potato King" Lauger himself as he crouches behind an old carriage in his latest venture of opening a museum to allow the public to see his collection of the strange and old. Oscar was crowned "Potato King" in 1949 when his yield was 589.5 bushels per acre.

Sylvania Float Masters

CLIFFORD JOHNSON

CLAYTON STOLDT

Two Warren Sylvaniaans, who have become float fabricators par excellence, will have their prize-winning star-shaped triumph move along Pennsylvania Avenue again tomorrow as a somewhat revised sequel to the July sixth parade entry.

Clifford Johnson and Clayton Stoldt began their float production in 1952 after viewing numerous pictures of other floats. Since that time, however, the imaginative pair have whipped up their own ideas, including the "Beat the Clock" creation with Roxanne in 1955 and last year's production, a giant birthday cake.

The two men have additional plans for this year's float which will be incorporated into a Jaycee community decoration at Christmas time. Stoldt and Johnson decided some years ago to build the floats around a self-propelled unit rather than a "tow" and since have created their ideas around a jeep, always driven by Derwin Stenstrom, Sylvania plastics plant employee.

Plans for the following year are generally first formulated by Cliff and Clayton while fashioning their current production, but they are making no prior announcements.

Install a Disposer to Solve Food Waste Problems

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

A BIG housekeeping headache is the prompt disposal of garbage and trash. Pick-up service, especially in burgeoning suburbs, is often overtaxed. Costs are rising; my bill from the waste removal company has jumped a third in the last two months.

Lugging trash cans to the curb for pick-up service is required in some communities. In many places, garbage must be separated from waste paper and disposed of separately.

And how hot weather and insect pests add to the burden of keeping trash cans clean and sanitary.

Homemakers looking hopefully for a single solution to the problem will be disappointed. No one appliance has yet been invented that can handle all the varied types of household trash.

HOWEVER, one of the major items, food waste, can be directed down the drain instead of into the garbage can. Food waste disposers, installed in new or old sinks, are one of the fastest growing sales items on the appliance list.

They've dropped both in weight and price since their introduction 20 years ago. Then they weighed 75 pounds and cost $300. New ones are as light as 20 pounds and cost as little as $60 plus installation.

Some are insulated to cut down on the noise they make in operation.

Today's food waste disposer can work as a team with a dishwasher.

Food waste disposer hidden under this sink is moderately priced, has a drain connection for dishwasher.

Most have provision for a dishwasher drain connection, a help if you plan to acquire this major appliance at a future date.

Requirements for installing a disposer are electricity, an adequate flow of cold water and lions a minute through the unit. Food waste disposers can handle most ordinary garbage. This includes bones, fruit pits and rinds, egg shells, fats and greases, vegetable parings and fibrous materials.

There are items which should not be put into disposers, not only to protect the disposer but also to protect sewer lines or septic tanks. These include glass, ceramic, metals, rubber, sand or gravel.

It's pretty generally agreed among engineers that disposers are compatible with properly installed septic tank systems. They point out that a disposer adds a load to the tank that is equivalent to the addition of one adult. Therefore it will shorten the time interval between clean-out operations. One authority suggests that a tank may need to be cleaned about twice as often as before the disposer unit was added.

AS EASY and convenient as new disposers are to install in almost any type of sink, unless the man of the house is an unusually skilled person, it's a job for the plumber. What he will charge will vary, but it's not apt to be excessive in most homes.

Most manufacturers supply booklets with complete, diagrammed directions for operation and care. If you don't be sure to have your plumber give you exact details of its operation. This may include an emphatic reminder to turn on the cold water before you turn on the disposer. In some disposers this is automatic; in others it isn't.

WAC Raises Dues; Hopes To Keep Members Active

Warren Aviation Club held its meeting Wednesday night at the Warren Air Port with President Dr. John Huey presiding. During the business meeting it was decided to raise the monthly dues from $2 to $5.50 to keep members active. Also they discussed plans to get a four placed plane. They discussed plans to drop charter membership in September. Anybody joining after this will have to pay an additional $50 to fly the four placed plane.

President Huey and his wife will be taking a trip to Huntington, West Virginia, and will use one of the club's planes.

Turnout at the meetings has been very poor and it is requested that all members should become more active.

Plans were discussed for ways to help the Jaycees with their airshow sometime in September. Participation in this show was also discussed.

Bible Words for Today

REVELATION 3:8 — "Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut." (RSV)

It is said that doors are being closed to the Christian church in many lands. Where communism gains control, Christian missions are closed and missionaries are imprisoned or expelled. China is a classic example of this fact. But a missionary recently returned from China observed that while the door to China may be closed to us it is not closed to Chinese Christians. By the grace of God some Chinese Christians are still bearing witness to their faith under difficulties that are hard to imagine. We need to remember that God's ways are not our ways. Man's extremities are sometimes God's greatest opportunities. This is the Biblical faith, and the Christian church is a living witness to its truth. "In spite of dungeon, fire and sword" is more than a line in a great hymn. It is an expression of deep faith. We can take courage in the promise that the God we serve is able to keep open doors that no earthly powers can effectively shut.

The Rev. Franklin I. Sheeder, Board of Christian Education and Publication, Evangelical and Reformed Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

No Let Up in Grand Scramble
For Lead In National League

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If you've got the idea the National League contenders have leveled over and played dead once they made the top, you're right. Nobody loses like the leaders these days.

Since the scramble really got going early in June, the lead has changed hands no less than 10 times, with Milwaukee's Braves moving back in with a one-game edge last night on a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia after Brooklyn knocked St. Louis out of first with 10-9, 11-inning stunner.

All five of the contenders—Milwaukee, St. Louis, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Cincinnati—have been in the lead since June 8, and in that time, they've played at a combined .400 rate while in first place.

Only the Braves have played over 500 while on top, winning even of 15 games for a .538 percentage. The Cards were 7-9 while in first for 438, Cincinnati won only two of eight for .250, Brooklyn 0-1 and Philadelphia 0-2 didn't win once while in the lead.

Cincinnati's Redlegs, who have managed to stay within two games of the top although losing eight of their last 12, remained a close fifth with a 2-1 decision over the New York Giants yesterday. Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-5 with four in the ninth.

The American League look on a look of complete collapse. The New York Yankees as the world champions opened up a five-game lead, their largest bulge of the season, with a comeback, 3-2 victory at Detroit while Baltimore scored five in the ninth to beat the second place Chicago White Sox 6-2. Boston defeated Kansas City 3-1 and Washington blanked Cleveland 4-0.

The Braves, who have won six of nine since the All-Star break to take the lead for a fourth time, were without slugging Hank Aaron for the windup of the three-game sweep at Philadelphia. But Del Rice drove in three runs, two with a homer off loser Curt Simmons, to take up the slack as Aaron rested an injured ankle and joined Joe Adcock, Del Crandall, Felix Mantilla and Bill Bruton on the injury list.

Where Did You First Meet
Your New Car?

Was it in an advertisement? So often the first meeting is . . . and how much it means to you and your family now. But it means even more to countless others, whose jobs depend on car sales.

When you buy a car, you help pay the salaries of your local dealer's salesmen. Part of your money went into their bank accounts, to their grocers, to other suppliers here in Warren. The circle goes on widening to include literally thousands all over America . . . all kinds of people in all kinds of jobs.

They buy cars, too, and millions of other items every day. Many of these sales begin with advertising on newspaper pages like this, country-wide.

So you can say, truthfully, that every time advertising helps to make a sale, your own paycheck and your family's way of living are just that much more secure.

Advertising Benefits YOU!

Snead and Ford Rule As Favorites In National P.G.A.

By FRITZ HOWELL

Dayton, Ohio, (P) — Sammy Snead, 45, and Doug Ford 34, continued to rule as red-hot favorites, but each could be cooled off quickly, as 16 survivors surged today into the 39th National PGA championship's fourth round of match play.

Several dark-horses who surprised everyone including themselves by getting this far in the man-to-man combat, were scattered through the list. But plenty of tournament-tested talent was still around, too.

Dow Finsterwald, 27, of Tequesta, Fla., and Athens, Ohio, one of the brightest of the young stars, was the road block in Snead's path today. Finsterwald hasn't been out of the money in 56 straight tournaments and has $21,447 to show for his 1957 club-swinging.

Ford, year's big-money man with $37,946, tangles with the elder half of golf's most sensational brother act, Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla. Hebert, 34, ex-marine who suffered leg wounds in the Pacific, was the hottest thing on the winter tour. His brother, trumpet-playing Lionel, 29, has long-hitting Mike Seuchak, former Duke footballer, as his foe.

Rice Knocks Off CVCC Handicapper 2nd Time

For the second straight week Bill Rice knocked off the handicap tournament in the first flight at Conewango Valley. His gross 37 with a three handicap gave him a net 34 "Skip" Morine had a nine-hole 35 score for second low gross.

In the second flight Tommy Atwell scored 42 and his 6 handicap gave him a net 36 for top prize. Bob Walsh and Harold Smith also scored 42s to divide the low gross prize.

Al Loranger came up with a scorching 37 in the third flight and a net 29 Carl Lundahl's 42 was low gross, except for Loranger's low.

Lyle Knapp subtracted a 7 handicap from his 47 for a net 34 to win the fourth flight. Gaston Hamilton's 44 was the best round in this division. Conewango Valley men have started qualifications for the annual tournament. Eighteen holes must be played by August 10. First round matches will be played the week of August 11.

GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

The Cards' McDaniel Boys; Von Tougher Than Lin

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK.—(NEA)—Fred Hutchinson had just gotten up and he had on a T-shirt and pair of slacks and was padding around his hotel suite in bare feet, groping for the first cigarette of the day, and talking about how it is to manage a team that has two pitchers like Lindy and Von McDaniel.

"They're religious boys," the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals began. "The older one, Lindy, he's studying theology. So I watch how I talk during ordinary conversation. I don't know about the rest of the fellows, but I'm the manager, so I do it that way."

"Then something happens during a game and I jump up and yell something like — and so does everybody else and you don't really know you're saying anything. Lindy, I notice he just sits there quietly and doesn't notice anything. But he's been around a bit now."

"Von is only with us six weeks and it's all new to him. He's only 18. He's never heard any ballplayers' language before, most of it, anyhow, so he looks down at us and gets a kick out of it."

"I HAVE TROUBLE GETTING Lindy to pitch a little tougher," Hutchinson got up, picked a magazine off the coffee table, rolled it up and took a batting pose in the middle of the room.

"Lindy is a low ball pitcher," he said, "down around here and outside a bit." He bent over and ran his hand back and forth across his knees. "So a batter gets in there against him and starts coming down and leaning over so he can get at those pitches."

"I tell Lindy to make 'em get back." He ran his hand across his chest. "I don't mean to throw it here. I mean just get it inside and high. Around here." He moved his hand across his chest.

"That would back the hitter away, straighten him up. He wouldn't be bent over, laying for those low pitches. But the kid won't do it. Von is different, I think. I haven't talked to him about it, but I think he'd do it. He'd do anything to be a real good pitcher."

"TO LIKE LINDY to brush them off. Look, we had Joe Cunningham hitting good against the Reds. Left-handed hitter. He hits one off Brooks Lawrence into the left field seats."

"So the next time he gets up, down he goes. The pitcher was just protecting his interest. But the umpire steps up and starts yelling. 'One more of those and you're out of the game.' So two pitches later Cunningham doubles. He killed the Reds the whole series. Hit a liner back to the box that hurt Herschel Freeman's foot."

"Cunningham knows the score. Nobody was going to stand there and let him knock his brains out. That's the way this game is. But I can't get Lindy to do it that way."

"WALKER COOPER HAS BEEN around this club a long time and he says he hasn't seen pitchers as good as these kids break in since guys like Ernie White and Johnny Beasley. That was back in the early '40s and they were as good as you find."

"Both these kids are going to be real good pitchers. I thought we'd win at the start of the year and that was without figuring on them so much. Now I know we're the real solid club."

Downstairs, in the coffee shop, Lindy and Von McDaniel sat in crew cuts and sports jackets, having breakfast. Von doesn't even drink coffee. He has cocoa in the morning, a milk shake at night.

But Fred Hutchinson believes he is tough enough to keep hitters from taking a toehold. Even if Lindy, who is 21 and the leader, doesn't want to play that way.
